EDITOR'S NOTE

Hello Football Fans:

The 1982 Southwestern Athletic Conference Football Press Guide is a SWAC publication.

This guide is published with the intention of providing scouts and sportswriters with in-depth information on each member school and its team — past and present. It is intended also to help keep our many fans, alumni, and friends abreast of what's going on in the league.

In behalf of the members of the Southwestern Athletic Conference, I would like to thank the Miller Brewing Company for their assistance in the publication of this guide.

It is our hope that our readers will find this publication informative and helpful as they follow the Super 7 this season.

SOUTHWESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

PRESIDENT GREETINGS!

The Southwestern Athletic Conference, beginning its 62nd season, has a proud history of struggles and achievements, of purpose and performance. Today it ranks as one of the leading conferences in the nation.

DR. NORRIS A. EDNEY

It has never been easy to claim this fair share of recognition. Only loyalty and dedication of our many friends, alumni, sons, and supporters have made it possible. They have spread the good news about the SWAC competition throughout the nation and they deserve our thanks.

The SWAC is currently made up of seven state universities--Alcorn State, Grambling State, Jackson State, Mississippi Valley, Prairie View, Southern, and Texas Southern.

It is indeed a pleasure for me to welcome aboard the new athletic directors and head football coaches who have joined the athletic staff of several of our member institutions. We are sure they will find our league both challenging and rewarding.

In behalf of the members of the Southwestern Athletic Conference, I take this opportunity to invite all of our friends, fans and supporters to follow SWAC football this season. We promise you a season filled with 'super' excitement, enjoyment, entertainment, coupled with pride and excellence.

The Athletic Directors of the Southwestern Athletic Conference are the governing body of the conference. They are the voting body in NCAA and other national and local issues involving the league and their respective institutions.

The SWAC athletic directors are responsible for maintaining the activities of the conference. Each member AD is assigned a sport or an activity to coordinate. They report directly to their respective presidents on all matters pertaining to the conference and their institutions.

Dr. Walter Reed, athletic director at Jackson State University, succeeds Marino Casem as the new chairman for the 1982-83 SWAC Athletic Directors Committee.

Dear SWAC Fans:

The Southwestern Athletic Conference has firmly established it self as one of the nation's premiere football playing conferences.

Attendance has increased rapidly in recent years and the caliber of talent within the league is prominently recognized each year at the annual National Football League draft.

It is not uncommon for the All-NFL team to be dotted with such former SWAC standouts like Sammy White, of Grambling, now a member of the Minnesota Vikings; Walter Payton, of Jackson State, now playing with the Chicago Bears; Harold Carmichael of Southern, now playing with the Philadelphia Eagles; and two of the league's brightest young stars --Emerson Walls of the Dallas Cowboys and Doug Williams of the Tampa Bay Bucs, Both graduates of Grambling University.

It takes skilled coaching to properly guide and develop this type of extraordinary talent and the SWAC coaches are certainly capable. Veterans like Grambling's Eddie Robinson, who will be seeking his 300th career win shortly after the season opens, and Alcorn's Marino Casem have some of the best football mind's in the pro or college game. Newcomers like Prairie View's Jim McKinley will insure the continuation of SWAC's coaching excellence.

Miller Brewing Company recognizes the contributions the Southwestern Athletic Conference has made to sports fans all over the country and to sports fans all over the country and to the greater society, and is proud to be associated with the SWAC. We would like to wish the student-athletes, coaches, alumni and supporters at each institution the very best during the 1982-83 athletic year.

Sincerely,

Thomas B. Shropshire
Senior Vice President and Treasurer

SWAC FOOTBALL 1982

by
COLLIE NICHOLSON

This is a time of casual banter, apt generalization, and humble self-effacement for football coaches in the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

Glum Eddie Robinson, a veteran of 40 seasons at Grambling with a glossy 297-98-13 worksheet, protests that imponderables have forced him to tone down expectations. Graduation has reduced the once vaunted defensive line to papier-mache and the G-Men are forced to flirt with an untried quarterback.

The situation has left Robinson with a queasy stomach.

Coach W. C. Gorden scoffs at the idea that Jackson State will repeat as league champions. "Too much of our future is vested in a young quarterback," he declared. Jackson will also have to find replacements for 11 starters who graduated.

Gorden indicated that graduation may have accomplished what SWAC teams failed to do.

In his incisive analysis, Coach Marino Casem insisted that Alcorn must play better situation football and develop a consistency on offense. Alcorn's success is usually intertwined with a dependable, durable, and unshakable defense.

The defense is there, but Casem reasons that the Braves are about a year away from restoration of the proud football presence of the '70s.

Texas Southern was the league's big surprise last fall.

Coach Joseph Redmond turned the Tigers into a contender in his inaugural season in Houston. Optimism is high for the '82 campaign, but Redmond, a sound fundamentalist and capable tactician, is worried that the Russian Roulette type SWAC schedule could explode in his face this season.

Coach Otis Washington isn't making any rash predictions at Southern. He knows that there are no shortcuts to success. Washington envisions no more miracles following the Jaguars' resounding, 50-20 ambush of Grambling in the Bayou Classic.

The coach will pursue the shell game of trying to mesh available talent to camouflage a depth deficiency.

Southern has muscles in the defensive line, but will need an excellent pass rush from the front four to seal off the deep threat.

In Coach Archie Cooley's predicted order of finish, Mississippi Valley could have a better team without having a better record. Valley is plagued by a lack of seasoning in the vital defensive line.

The Delta Devils are short on defensive experience and size is not sufficient to hold the defense together.

Question marks abound at Prairie View where the Panthers have shown a distressing habit of stubbing their toes.

Blunt-talking Jim McKinley has been hired to call coaching cadence and eliminate barbs from critics. He'll need time to march his platoon in the right direction.

The new coach plans to use the pass as an offensive threat in what could be a season of high-and-lows, soaring hopes, and bitter frustrations.

The seven-team SWAC — a dominant force in I-AA football — kicks off its 62nd season in September.

No longer a group of whatchemacallems who play tank towns and barnstorm the boondocks. The SWAC outdrew all NCAA Division I-AA conference and independents nationally last season with 662,221 spectators for 36 games.

Grambling led SWAC schools with 185,008 fans in six games for an average of 30,835. Jackson averaged 28,658 customers with 171,949 spectators in six games.

Only the Big Ten, Southeastern, Big Eight, Pacific 10, Southwest, Atlantic Coast, and Western Athletic Conferences outranked SWAC schools in attendance, the NCAA said.

The league is a prolific producer of pro football talent.

ALCORN STATE UNIVERSITY

In 1969, Dr. Walter Washington assumed the presidency of Alcorn State University and immediately began to pioneer with creative ideas and positive changes and programs designed to enhance the status of the oldest of the 1980 land-grant institutions.

DR. WALTER WASHINGTON
President

Under Dr. Washington's leadership, Alcorn State committed itself in innovative leadership in state and national education, leading the school into the mainstream of American public life and strengthening its traditional academic leadership.

Alcorn State University, the oldest Land-Grant College for Blacks in the United States, had its beginning in 1830 as Oakland College for the education of white male students. The Presbyterian school closed its doors at the beginning of the Civil War so that its students might answer the call to arms. Upon failing to reopen after the war, the college was sold to the State of Mississippi for the education of her Negro citizens. The college was renamed Alcorn University in 1871 in honor of the late James L. Alcorn who was then Governor of the State.

Today, Alcorn State University is carrying out its function as a Land-Grant College in Mississippi. Its vocational curricular and related sciences are enhanced by a sound foundation of general studies. These curricular and a competent staff of teachers and administrators are tools employed by Alcorn State University to prepare students to live fully, effectively, graciously, and cooperatively in a democratic society while serving the needs of the people in the State and Nation.

DR. NORRIS A. EDNEY
Faculty Representative

MARINO CASEM
Head Coach

The winningest coach in the history of Alcorn State football, Casem has surmounted a phenomenal record of 111 wins, 56 losses, and 8 ties. In 19 years at "the Corn," he has had but two losing seasons.

Because of his earned reputation as being a hardworker, Marino has become known on the ASU campus as "the Godfather."

1982 BRAVES OUTLOOK

When the lights were turned off at Mississippi Memorial Stadium last Thanksgiving, the Alcorn State University Braves' 13-10 loss to Jackson State was a very symbolic one. It was the end of a 5-5 season and also the end of a saga in which the team lost five games by a sheer total of 26 points.

Looking ahead to the 1982 season, optimism is as rampant as it has ever been on "the scalping grounds." Although the likes of 6-2 punting ace Lee Williams, 6-1,212 defensive end Jeffery Smith, and 5-11, 209 defensive end Terry Freeman will have departed, the returnees were impressive enough in spring drills for the coaches to call it one of their best spring practice sessions ever.

"We'll be deeper than we were last year," said head coach Marino Casem. "Last year was a chaotic situation in that we didn't know who would start where."

Heading the list of returnees for Alcorn State are defensive stalwart, Robert Cole, and Marlon Expose, two of the best at their respective positions.

Offensive leaders returning include Darnell Toy, Gregory Jones, and James McFarland.

The defensive interior line and an array of running backs are the Braves' major strengths.

The offensive interior line, unlike its defensive counterpart, may cause multiple problems for Coach Casem and his assistants.

The Braves won four of their last five contests a year ago and it is that momentum which is expected to carry the team to greater heights this season.

GRAMBLING STATE UNIVERSITY

Grambling, Louisiana, the home of the Grambling State University, the Tigers, the collegiate football powerhouse, and the seemingly infallible marching band, is perhaps the world's largest city. Although its approximately 6,000 people can be counted at one sitting, this size comes not from numbers but quality, integrity, and productiveness.

Grambling State University — the place where everybody is somebody — has become an illustrious institution as it has combined a myriad of viable elements to transform the empty weed-filled plot of vacuous earth to the small but yet expansive focal point of learning for college students.

Originally, this institution exclusively served the poor and willing to teach them how to make a living, to improve methods of farming, to prepare and preserve foods, to improve health and sanitary conditions, to buy land and build homes.

Beginnings and subsistence was Grambling's start. Though the venture to the present has not been an obstacle free path, Grambling has been on the move. The school has moved from the Illinois Central Railroad site to the present 340-acre setting — the name has been changed from the Colored Industrial and Agricultural School of Lincoln Parish School to the North Louisiana Agricultural and Industrial Institute, to the Lincoln Parish Training School, to Grambling College to Grambling State University.

DR. JOSEPH JOHNSON
President

JOHN DUPLANTIER
Faculty Representative

Grambling renders to its students the polish which makes those who trod the course marketable fixtures in the American economy. Some 250 ex-Tigers have engaged in professional sports. There are doctors, lawyers, journalists, architects, contractors, actors, actresses, playwrights, politicians, college presidents — Grambling's present prexy, Dr. Joseph Johnson — and countless other occupational possibilities that have been successfully touched by the paws of Grambling students.

EDDIE ROBINSON
Head Coach

Eddie Robinson hopes his Tigers will be able to shove last fall's 6-4-1 record into the past, as he is out to capture his 300th victory.

Robinson's offensive line will be young and inexperienced. His defense will again be tough.

1982 TIGERS OUTLOOK

Grambling State University went 6-4-1 in 1981, its worst record since the 1959 team went 4-6.

GSU had a great recruiting season, and if all gaps are filled, Robinson will pick up his 300th win early, he's only three away, and hopefully, guide the G-men to the NCAA I-AA championship playoffs.

Grambling lost a wealth of seniors, most from the offensive unit, but have a great deal of veterans coming back. Coach Robinson got out on the recruiting trail himself this season, signing players who have to perform this season.

Gone is quarterback Thomas Ezell. But Terrell Landry, and Brent Hollis are expected to battle for the No. 1 post. Both have the ability and only lack game experience.

The SWAC leader in pass receptions is gone, Jerry Gordon, and so is tight end John Fisher. But, returning is All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate, Trumaine Johnson. He is GSU's threat to score from any position on the field.

GSU's offensive line was hard hit by graduation, losing center McKary Jackson, tackle Loucis Roseburrow, and guard Fred Johnson. Being counted upon to replace them are Jesse Bankhead at center, tackle Darryl Augurson, and Tareyton Banks.

Jorge Rosales is expected to handle the placekicking and Mike Harrington the punting. Rosales led GSU in scoring in '81 with 45 points.

The G-Men defense will again be tough. Look for All-American candidate Robert Smith to be among the front four. Smith, who mans the left end position, had 97 tackles, 12 and one-half sacks, in '81. Brendell Hopkins will back him up.

The secondary will be one of the strongest in the nation, led by All-SWAC cornerback Albert Lewis.

GSU was hurt by the outcome of last season, and losing isn't in Grambling's vocabulary. If the newcomers and inexperienced veterans jell, look for a typical outstanding Tiger season.

JACKSON STATE UNIVERSITY

"An urban center for learning" is a phrase which truly describes Jackson State University. The University was founded in 1877 as Natchez Seminary by the American Baptist Home Mission Society, with an enrollment of twenty students.

Today, Jackson State is widely recognized as a dynamic and progressive university with more than 7,000 students, a 400 plus member faculty which provides career oriented instruction for students seeking degrees on the baccalaureate through doctoral levels, and a staff which renders efficient, courteous, and prompt service supportive of the educational program of the University.

As a State supported university governed by the Board of Trustees, Institutions of Higher Learning, Jackson State University moves into its second century of service with a steadfast commitment to educational excellence.

In addition to the primary mission of education, the JSU faculty and administration also provide a strong research program involving nearly $4 million annually, and a wide range of community and state service programs.

The JSU campus located in Jackson, Mississippi, is housed on a scenic 114 acre tract just minutes from the downtown area. It is in this setting that JSU has been designated the State's urban university.

Jackson State University recruits, admits and provides services, financial aid and instruction to all students without regard to race, age, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

DR. JOHN A. PEOPLES
President

DR. WILLIAM RUSH
Faculty Representative

W.C. GORDON
Head Coach

Last fall, the Tigers finished 9-2-1 and won the SWAC Championship. Gordon received SWAC Coach of the Year honors.

The success of the Tigers in 1982 will depend greatly on filling the quarterback slot vacated by Keith Taylor and replacing 11 other graduated starters.

1982 TIGERS OUTLOOK

Last season Jackson State University combined a balanced offensive attack with a swarming defense to form a machine-like juggernaut which rolled to a 9-2-1 season and the championship of the Southwestern Athletic Conference. And by virtue of their SWAC championship earned them a spot in the Division I-AA playoffs. The Tigers averaged 28.5 points per game while giving up a paltry 9.3 points per game.

Senior quarterback Keith Taylor was the key to the Tigers' success. He passed and ran for 1,887 yards and 24 touchdowns. He rushed for 373 yards and 11 touchdowns while completing 74 of 184 passes for 1,514 yards and 13 touchdowns.

The success of the Tigers in 1982 will depend greatly on filling the quarterback void left by Taylor and replacing 11 other graduated starters, especially on offense. However, Gordon has two excellent quarterbacks vying for Taylor's position — Derek McCall and John McKenzie.

The Tigers offensive strength may lie in their running game. Even with the loss of Cowan and Flowers, the running game is expected to be formidable, with Otis Brown the teams' top returning back heading the corps.

The Tigers will also have Stanley Conner, Zac Matthews, Carl Blue, Ellis Davis and Theodore Parker and Sylvester Stamps to strengthen the offensive.

The Tigers are also blessed with possibly the best corps of receivers in the SWAC. Anthony Jenkins, Tommy Norman, Chris Burkett, Maurice Aikens, Johnny Ray Brown, and Cleo Simmons are all solid performers.

The strength of the defense will lie in a veteran group of defensive backs and a hard-hitting corps of linebackers in Calvin January and Mario Kirksey.

Defensive tackle end Thomas Straughters will anchor the defensive line, while Bryant Moore is expected to handle the placekicking chores.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY STATE UNIVERSITY

The State's youngest public university has been much to many, but through the experiences and the fresh enthusiasm of recently appointed President, Joe L. Boyer, the 32-year-old Mississippi Valley State University is "not quite what it used to be, nor what it will be in the near future."

With his full-fledged energies perking since his appointment four months ago, the 42-year-old Boyer has already started groundwork for making the nation's youngest historically minority public university into one of the nation's "greatest institutions of higher learning."

Initially, MVSU was a small vocational and teacher education college in the midst of a deserted cotton plantation. The seeds of this educational oasis were planted in the heart of the Mississippi Delta by its first President — Dr. James Herbert White. White led Mississippi Vocational College, with its limited studies, seven faculty, 14 students, and a single building, to become Mississippi Valley State College with expanded academic programs, more than 2,000 students, a physical plant worth millions and a highly specialized faculty of more than 100 persons. Before retiring in 1971, White had established himself as a "messiah," leading the area's blacks to the "promised land" of upward mobility through education.

Also setting foundation for Boyer's administration was MVSU's second president, Dr. E. A. Boykins. During Boykins' 10 years as president, he led Valley State to university status in 1973, to a peak enrollment of about 3,360 in 1976, to national accreditations of several academic programs and to national attention for its two consecutive NAIA track and field championships.

DR. JOE BOYER
President

REGINALD HENDERSON
Faculty Representative

With such foundations, Boyer is excited about the potentials "of a place like The Valley." Currently with 2,500 students, 156 faculty members, a physical plant worth more than $29 million, solid academic programs ranging from teacher education to computer technology and other programs designed to meet the needs of its surrounding communities, there seem to be few areas for Boyer to better.

ARCHIE COOLEY
Head Coach

1982 DELTA DEVILS OUTLOOK

Archie Cooley heads into his third⁶ season as head coach for the Delta Devils with cautious optimism.

Even though Cooley has 41 lettermen returning, of which 15 are starters, he will still have to go with young and inexperienced players in key positions to try and better his last season's 4-6-1 finish.

Willie Totten, a 6-2, 199 pound sophomore will be the leading contender for the quarterback position. Also vying for the No. 1 post will be Todd Sherman and Dwayne Harris.

Offensively, MVSU will have some promising young backs in Jeremiah Snowden, (5-10, 210), Carlos Strickland, (5-10, 180), and Cleo Armstrong, (5-10, 180).

The offensive line will be anchored by veteran Clyde Jefferson with help from Michael Dean, (6-2, 270), Lorenzo Clark, (6-2, 250), and Riley Murry, (6-2, 220).

In the receiving department, Jerry Rice is expected to be the leading man. Last season, he led the team with 30 catches for 428 yards. Ron Sterling and Curtis Debarlaham are expected to provide added strength that will be needed for the Devils' passing game.

Defensively, look for the Devils to be stronger than they were last year. With the returning vets, Willie Green and James Green, the defense looks promising.

In the secondary, Cooley will have to find three replacements. However, he has Brian Williams, the top linebacker, returning. Brian had six interceptions last season.

MVSU's kicking game will again be strong with two-time All-SWAC punter, Otis Culliver, returning to handle the punting chores.

Overall, depth is missing. However, Valley will be going for the upper division of the SWAC.

PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY

Prairie View A&M has been successful in providing for the optimal development of the students it serves. Students at the University represent all sections of the state, with the highest percentages coming from Southeast Texas. A total of 29 other states and six foreign countries are also represented in the student body of 5,381. The enrollment includes 11% white, 88% black, and 1% other races.

DR. IVORY NELSON
President

Student development at the University has and will continue to take into account the hard facts concerning the socio-economic backgrounds of students enrolled. For a student clientele characterized by all the limitations that economic poverty brings, Prairie View provides opportunities for socio-cultural development as an integral feature of the student's education.

The University is committed to providing an intensive program of academic enrichment at the freshman level in the basic tool curricula area in order to provide a foundation for student success. Also, to meet the special needs of students, the University is utilizing its total resources in the creation of an environment and in the provision of programs and services which aid in the maximum development of its students.

Contribution to the advancement of our free society and the continued progress of our civilization are major goals of the University.

As an institution established to meet the needs of Black Americans and one now serving predominantly minority clientele, Prairie View is undoubtedly serving a special need of society's "high risk" students (along with the academically able and socially responsive) and has demonstrated success in producing a representative number of competent and mature citizens who are contributing in many ways to the goals of this nation.

DR. LEROY MOORE
Faculty Representative

Prairie View's services to Texas are substantial in all areas, particularly in agriculture and in education. Our services to developing international countries are "Outstanding" and are expanding.

JIM MCKINLEY
Head Coach

McKinley is new to the Prairie View football staff, having joined PV only weeks before spring drills to replace Cornelius Cooper.

McKinley hopes to better the Panthers last fall 2-8-0 record. He says PV's biggest problem will be depth.

1982 PANTHERS OUTLOOK

New head coach Jim McKinley inherited a team only weeks before spring drills who had a 2-8-0 finish last fall.

Although McKinley is in his first year at Prairie View, he is no stranger to the SWAC. McKinley played Mississippi Valley twice while serving as head coach at North Carolina A&T. In 1980 and 1981, McKinley and Cooley took turns spoiling each other's homecoming celebration.

The Panthers have talent, and Coach McKinley's plan calls for shuffling positions, offensively and defensively, to make the best use of his available talent.

The Panthers offensive unit seems to be in an upsurge. With the returns of Maurice Mitchell and Darryle Terrall at quarterback, running backs Howard Grant and Rickey Bryant, and an impressive line, things could well be looking up, offensively, for the Panthers this fall.

Defensively, the Panthers have shown considerable improvements. Look for 6-6, 260 pound Cyril Kennedy in the defensive front; and linebacker, Michael Rhodes, to help generate consistent offensive punches that's desperately needed to help change the Panthers' fortune.

McKinley says Prairie View's biggest problem will be team depth and it looks like he'll be counting on freshmen to solve that problem in some area. But all in all, with some luck, Prairie View could be the surprise team of the league.

SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

The Southern University Baton Rouge campus is the parent campus for the only predominantly Black university system in the world.

Southern University was created by an act of the Louisiana Legislature in 1880 and has been a part of the Baton Rouge scene since 1914.

It is located in North Baton Rouge on Scott's Bluff with 512 acres stretching its western border along the majestic Mississippi River.

DR. JESSE N. STONE, JR.
President

The Southern University System is composed of the institutions under the supervision and management of the Board of Supervisors of Southern University and Agricultural and Mechanical College. These institutions include Southern University and Agricultural and Mechanical College at Baton Rouge, Southern University at New Orleans, and Southern University at Shreveport.

The Baton Rouge campus is one of the most beautiful campuses with its Louisiana Oaks, Lake Kerman, and azaleas as part of the landscape enhanced by the Mississippi River, creating a picturesque setting to go with the claim to "one of the most modern physical plants in the south."

Southern University is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and by the Louisiana Department of Education. The curricula in Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering, Architecture, Law, Music, Teacher Education, Chemistry, and Social Work are accredited by their respective professional boards and councils.

TED MORGAN
Faculty Representative

Nine colleges and schools and the Junior Division are operative at Southern University-Baton Rouge and comparable organizations are operative at Southern University-New Orleans. Southern University-Shreveport is a two-year college with liberal arts, science, and commerce divisions.

Dr. Jesse Stone, beginning his seventh year as President of the Southern System, remains confident that the pursuit of excellence will continually be exhibited through academics, facilities, services, and quality of its students and graduates.

Under Dr. Stone's leadership, the University has pushed forward a program designed to foster excellence within its walls, and a manifestation of the University's pride in extending its reach and services to people beyond those walls.

"The preservation of the Southern University System as a viable educational institution, its enhancement, recognition, and acceptance of its uniqueness as an ethnic and cultural center of learning, and proper legal status" are concerns which Dr. Stone speaks emphatically about. He believes the University's future is very bright.

OTIS WASHINGTON
Head Coach

Coach Washington has mixed feelings about last fall's 3-8-0 record and the upcoming season.

Washington plans to call for a balanced offense between passing and running. He feels that this defense is intact.

1982 JAGUARS OUTLOOK

If Southern University Football Coach Otis Washington was left with something to do for an encore from last year, it would have to be the 50-2 Bayou Classic victory over Grambling State.

Most other thoughts of that 3-8 season record leaves the coach with mixed feelings as he heads into his second season.

Of the 1982 season, Coach Washington said, "I guess, from a coaches' standpoint, we just have to feel that we will improve over last year."

Through it all, there was an air of optimism as Coach Washington reviewed his available talent for the 1982 11-game run.

The first joyful note was that the Jaguars will return 47 lettermen, which includes his starting quarterback, Norman Gibbs, along with Kedrick Hogan.

Coach Washington plans for his 1982 Jaguars to call for "opening up the game a bit more, with more balance between passing and running."

Offensively, Coach Washington will have at least five starters returning. Eric Elliot is the returning veteran at center. However, Coach Washington is deeply concerned about backup help once the season gets underway.

Among the receivers, Coach Washington would like to have more speed, but he returns a capable group, including Dexter Henderson, who will probably move to flanker, Raymond Kyles, and Lance Beloney.

Defensively, Coach Washington feels that he'll have some of the best linebackers in the SWAC. He only lost one from his 1981 squad.

In the defensive secondary, top returnees is Darryl Pringle who will get help from Troy Hancock. Coach Washington has admitted weaknesses in the secondary and he has already made changes to bolster the problem.

The kicking game will be manned by young talent, but Coach Washington is confident that things will take a turn for the better. Lance Hughes, a Southern Lab recruit, along with Kevin Davis, looks very promising. Roger Serrano will do the placekicking.

Nothing would suit Coach Washington and his staff more than for the momentum of the Grambling game of last year to have lingered around for the 1982 run.

TEXAS SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

Texas Southern University is located immediately southeast of downtown Houston, Texas, on a beautiful pine-studded campus in the heart of the nation's fourth largest city. Established as a state university in 1947, the institution's history as part of Houston's higher education system began when Houston Colored Junior College opened in 1927. Its successor, Houston College for Negroes, was transferred to the State University in 1947, making it the first public college in Houston. The name was changed to Texas Southern University in 1951.

DR. L. H. SPEARMAN
President

Since its establishment, TSU has grown to be a four-year coeducational state university, recognized around the world as a pivotal institution of higher education for blacks and other minorities, while serving students of all races. Acknowledged as a center of international culture and education, over fifty nations across the globe are represented in its student and faculty ranks. In 1973, TSU was designated by the Texas Legislature as a "special purpose institution of higher education for urban programming."

Texas Southern University is a fully accredited university that provides equal educational opportunity in a variety of undergraduate, graduate, and professional degree programs. Eight curriculum divisions and graduate schools offer courses of study in Arts and Sciences, Business, Communications, Education, Law, Pharmacy, Technology, and Public Affairs.

Texas Southern University is the largest historically Black, single-campus, public university in the United States. It boasts an enrollment of over 8,000 students, a faculty of 475 (including adjunct faculty), and an operating budget of approximately $37 million.

DR. JOSHUA HILL
Faculty Representative

Texans comprise about 60% of the total enrollment, and approximately 30% are international students representing more than 50 nations. The University is an open admissions, equal education opportunity institution.

Much of the reason for the University's growth and expansion can be attributed to its expertise in seeking solutions to urban problems and providing an opportunity for qualified individuals to become involved with an educational experience rich in heritage and bold in concepts of functional instruction.

JOE REDMOND

Head Coach

The fact that the TSU head football coach, Joseph Redmond, has stated that the 1982 Tigers should be contenders in the Southwestern Athletic Conference championship race means that his team is improved over last year's 4-6-1 record.

1982 TIGERS OUTLOOK

After having been caught in a four-year down cycle, TSU football made strong overtures toward rebounding strongly under the direction of new head coach, Joe Redmond, who guided the Tigers to a 4-6-1 record last fall.

TSU welcomes back 36 lettermen, 18 of whom are on defense.

Offensively, Redmond will have to find replacements for ace quarterback Vincent Pleasant. However, Redmond doesn't figure to have too much of a problem filling the slot since deciding between quarterbacks Harold Smith and Johnny Holley may require heavy thinking. He'll have wide receiver and return specialist, Carl Williams, and tight end Arthur Cox to help put points on the scoreboard.

Offensive tackle Boyd Jones who made the second team All-SWAC unit should provide strength to the offensive unit.

On defense, the Tigers will have James Grisby at end, safeties Dale Sheppard, and Edward Owens, and linebacker Karl Watson, returning.

Last season, Watson led the Tigers in tackles with 132. Owens and Sheppard finished second and third respectively with 101 and 88.

Redmond plans to beef up his leaky pass defense — a defense that was seventh in a seven team race and gave up 15 touchdowns.

Basically, the Tigers will be looking to replace an offensive backfield and patch up a couple of holes on defense. Other than that, the success of the "Rebirth Tigers" could easily remain high.

SWAC SPORTS INFORMATION DIRECTOR-OF-THE-YEAR

This year, for the first time, the SWAC Athletic Directors selected a Sports Information Director-of-the-Year and the honor went to CHARLES "CHUCK" PROPHET.

Chuck, in his eleventh year as SID at Mississippi Valley State University, was cited for the outstanding service he's rendering to the conference in helping promote its activities.

Chuck, who doubles as SWAC SID and SWAC SID chairman, is a graduate of Mississippi Valley. He holds a Masters Degree from Mississippi State University.

He and his wife, Anna, have two daughters — Talunja and Kimaneesh.

1982 SWAC ATHLETIC DIRECTOR-OF-THE-YEAR

DR. WALTER REED
Jackson State Univ.

This year's recipient of the Southwestern Athletic Conference's Athletic Director-of-the-Year is a man who wears many hats — DR. WALTER REED, athletic director at Jackson State University.

Reed, who serves the conference as vice president and chairman of the athletic directors committee, has established himself as one of the leading administrators in college athletics.

Under his directorship, athletics at Jackson State this year received a motivating boost when his teams won 7 of 10 SWAC championships.

A native of Meridian, Mississippi, Reed is a graduate of Jackson State University. He holds a Masters Degree from Indiana University and a Doctorate from the University of Miami.

Reed is married to the former Martha Duckworth of Jackson. They have three children — Clifton, Kathy, and Walter.

1981 ALL-SWAC COACH OF THE YEAR

W. C. Gorden, head football coach at Jackson State University was selected as the Southwestern Athletic Conference's 1981 Football Coach-of-the-Year.

Now entering his sixth season as head coach of the JSU football team, Gorden has a career record of 44 wins, 14 losses, and one tie. Last season, he directed the Tigers to a 9-2-1 finish, and a 5-1 SWAC mark which gave them the 1981 Conference championship.

During his tenure at Jackson State, Gorden has coached football and baseball, winning the SWAC baseball championship in 1971.

Gorden is a 1952 graduate of Tennessee State University. Prior to coming to J-State, he had coached in Magnolia and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Gorden and his wife, Vivian, have two sons, Graig and Robin.

SOUTHWESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE HISTORY

The Southwestern Athletic Conference was organized in 1920 at Houston, Texas. At the time of its organization, the conference was composed of colleges and universities located in Texas. Colleges represented at this meeting were: Bishop College, Paul Quinn College, Sam Houston College, Prairie View College, Texas College, and Wiley College.

NORRIS A. EDNEY
SWAC President

Founders of the conference were C. H. Fuller, Bishop College; E. G. Evans, H. J. Evans, H. J. Mason, Willie Stams, Prairie View; Red Randolph, C. H. Patterson, Paul Quinn College; G. White Gordan, Wiley College; and D. C. Fowler, Texas College.

Langston University of Oklahoma began the migration of state-supported institutions into the SWAC in 1931. Southern University of Baton Rouge, LA, entered the ranks in 1934 and Arkansas AM&N College of Pine Bluff, AR, was admitted in 1936; Texas Southern University, Houston, TX, was admitted in 1954; Grambling State, Grambling, LA, in 1958; Jackson State, Jackson, MS, in 1958; Alcorn State, Lorman, MS, in 1962; and Mississippi Valley State, Itta Bena, MS, in 1968.

An extensive program plus the rapid growth in enrollment of the state supported schools made it difficult for the church-supported schools to finance their athletic programs. One by one, they fell victims of the growing athletic prowess of tax-supported colleges. Paul Quinn fell by the wayside in 1929. Samuel Houston merged with Tilleston College in 1948 and the newly founded Houston-Tilleston College withdrew membership the following year. Bishop College withdrew in 1936; Langston College in 1957; Texas College in 1961; Wiley in 1968; and Arkansas AM&N in 1970.

The SWAC ranks second among conferences in the number of athletes signed by professional organizations. All SWAC teams are now in Division I-AA in the NCAA.

SWAC led all Division I-AA conferences and independents with 662,221 spectators for 36 games, an average of 18,921 per game, up 17.63 percent over 1980.

Grambling led all SWAC schools with 185,008 in six games for an average of 30,835, up 2,937. Jackson State was second with 171,949 for six games. Southern drew 118,048, averaging 23,610 for five games.

Conference schools drew 50,000 more spectators in '81, despite playing three fewer games.

According to the NCAA, only the Big Ten, Southeastern, Big Eight, Pacific 10, Southwest, Atlantic Coast, and Western Athletic Conferences outranked SWAC schools in attendance.

Jackson and Alcorn State had the biggest per-game increases among seven SWAC members. Jackson was up 11,812 fans per-game to 28,658. Alcorn had 6,921 more spectators per-game over '80, jumping to 15,546 for 1981.

SWAC PRE-SEASON PRESS TOUR

Now in its fourth year, the SWAC Press Tour rightfully claims to be one of the league's most beneficial activities. It affords each SWAC coach and his players an opportunity to present an inside view of their upcoming season--what to expect, key players, and season predictions.

Last season's tour included key cities where SWAC football games were played. The cities were: Jackson, MS, Baton Rouge, LA, Houston, TX, and Shreveport, LA. A press conference was held in each of these cities, giving the sportswriters, who were not able to travel with the group, an opportunity to interview the coaches and their players.

The entourage includes SWAC football coaches, two players from each member school, SWAC SIDs, and local sportswriters.

The 1981 SWAC football coaches on the press tour, l. to r., Casem, (ASU), Cooley (MVSU), Robinson (GSU), Washington (SU), Cooper (PV), Redmond (TSU), and Gorden(JSU).

Media reps listen-as SWAC coaches talk.

Alcorn Marino Casem put away all of the smiles.

Texas So. Joe Redmond asking for time to build his program.

Grambling Eddie Robinson explaining why his tigers can't win!

MVSU Archie Cooley tells it like it is - straight.

J-State W.C. Gorden awaits questions.

Southern U. Otis Washington makes statement.
